On the outskirts of the community of Flecken Aerzen, near Hameln, a new day-care center including a crèche was built.

The round building includes three daycares and two crèche groups. In the foreground of the outdoor facility, an exciting area is being implemented despite its small size.

The existing old linden tree is integrated into the concept for preservation. Moreover, existing play equipment is combined with new ones. Shrub and hedge plantings subdivide the individual play areas and create places of retreat. In addition to the play areas, a new parking space for visitors and employees is added.
